

Company Overview

farm9 is a California corporation whose mission is to provide managed security services to protect critical computing infrastructure.

We are a pioneer in the field of remote Internet security vulnerability prevention, detection and response. farm9 is a subscription based managed service provider (MSP or ASP), which provides state-of-the-art preventative security solutions to 1000's of companies worldwide.

farm9 customers leverage our economies of scale to achieve increased service levels and a higher overall level of security. Our security team constantly updates our products' detection capabilities. Since our solutions are delivered remotely, via the Internet, customers receive these benefits instantly, without need to download software or upgrade systems.

farm9 uses, supports, and produces Open Source software products in its service offerings. This allows our customers to leverage the Open Source community in their commercial environments. At farm9 we believe the best security software is open security software.
